COMING TO BRNO

By plane. Even though there are airports in Brno \(BRQ\) and Prague \(PRG\), we recommend flying to Vienna International Airport \(VIE\). It offers more international connections than Brno Airport and it is closer to Brno than Prague Airport.

By train. Brno has a good train connection within Europe. Trains from Prague, Vienna, Bratislava, Budapest, Warsaw, and Berlin run several times a day.

By bus. Brno is also part of the European bus network and all connections and their prices are similar to trains. Student Agency, FlixBus and Eurolines provide buses to many European cities.

By car. Brno is well-connected to other cities by a highway. You can get easily to neighboring countries by car. In order to use Czech highways, you have to purchase a vignette. The 10-day vignette costs 310 CZK/13 € and can be purchased online and at every gas station.
